VALLEY OF VINES.

AN ELOQUENT TALK AT TULARE.

Continued Ovation Through the Valley.

The President Calls California "Wonderland."

In the Valley of Vines.

Special to the Gazette.]

FRESNO (Cal.), April 25.—The President and party arose at 6 o'clock this morning, while the train was crossing the Tehachapi mountains on its way to the valley of the San Joaquin, and had a splendid view of the celebrated railroad loop at that point. The first stopping place of the day was Bakersfield, where the party arrived at 9:30 o'clock. The train remained ten minutes. The President received a cordial welcome. He was introduced to the people by Judge Conklin and was about to respond when assailed by such a shower of bouquets he was forced to seek shelter in his car. Seeing that the President did not fancy this treatment, the people desisted, whereupon the President again advanced to the front of the car and addressed the people as follows:

"My friends I am very much obliged to you for your greeting and for these bouquets. You must excuse me if I seem a little shy on bouquets. I received one in my eye the other day which gave me a good deal of trouble. You are very kind to meet us here so early this morning with this cordial demonstration. It has been a very long journey and has been accompanied with some fatigue of travel, but we feel this morning in this exhilarating air and with your kind greeting, as bright and more happy than when we left the national capital. I am glad to feel that here on western edge of the continent, in this Pacific State there is that same enthusiastic love for the flag, that same veneration and respect for American institutions, for the union and constitution, that is found in the heart of the country. We are one people absolutely. We follow not men, but institutions. We are happy that man may live or die, come or go, we have still that towards which the hearts of the American citizens beat, with confidence and veneration—this great union of States devised so happily by our fathers. General Garfield, when Lincoln was stricken down by the foul hand of the assassin, when that great wave of dismay and grief swept over the land, standing in the busy thoroughfare of New York, could say: 'The Government at Washington still lives.' It is dependent upon no man. It is lodged safely in the affections of the people, having its impregnable defense and its assured perpetuity in their love and veneration and for law." [Cheers.]

Tulare was reached shortly after 10 o'clock, and the President and party, which now included Governor Markham, ex-Governor Perkins, Mr. Stump and Colonel Crocker, received a regular ovation. A national salute was fired, during which the party was escorted to a gayly decorated stand, the base of which was a stump of a mammoth Redwood tree. This was surrounded by a guard of honor composed of local militia and the G. A. R. The President was introduced by Governor Markham, and was greeted with hearty cheers. He addressed the assemblage as follows:

"My friends, this seems to be a very happy and smiling audience, and I am sure the gladness which is in your hearts and in your faces does not depend at all upon the presence of this little company of strangers who tarry with you for a moment. It is born of sunshine and conditions that are permanent. It comes of the happy sunshine and west air that is over your fields, and still more from the sentiment, prosperity and love that are in your households. California has been spoken of as 'Wonderland.' Everywhere we have been, something interesting and surprising has been presented to our observation. There has been but one monotone in our journey and that is the monotone of universal welcome from all of you people. [Cheers.] Everything else has been new and exceptional at every stop. My own heart kindles with gladness; my own confidence in American interests is firmer as I mingle with the masses of one people. You are here in a great agricultural region; a region rescued from desert waste by the skill and energy of man; a region populated by substantial industries, thrifty God-fearing people, people devoted to the institutions under which they live, proud to be Americans, finding that American birthright is the greatest heritage they can hand down to their children; proud of the great story of our country from the time of independence to this day; devoted to institutions that give the largest liberty to the individual and at the same time secure social order. Here is the firm foundation upon which our hopes for future security rest. What but our own neglect, what but our own unfaithfulness, can put in peril either our national institutions or our local organizations of government? True to ourselves; true to those principles which we have embodied in our government, there is to human eye, no danger that can threaten the firm base of our institutions. I am glad to see and meet these happy children. I feel like kneeling to them as the future sovereigns of our country. I feel as if it were profanation to tread upon these sweet flowers that they have spread in my pathway. God bless them every one; keep them in lines they are to live from all that is evil; fill their little hearts with sunshine and their mature lives with grace and usefulness." [Cheers.]

The President afterwards remarked to Governor Markham that this was the first stump speech he had made on the entire trip. Short speeches were also made by General Wainwright and Secretary Rusk.

Kingsburg was the next place visited and the President shook hands with all the people who could get near him. He has practically recovered the use of his right hand and anticipates no further trouble from that member, notwithstanding the middle finger, which was injured near Santa Barbara, is still in a bandage. The party arrived at Fresno at 11:40 o'clock, twenty minutes ahead of time and received a most enthusiastic reception.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—A special train bearing members of the reception committee left here this morning to meet the Presidential party.

Von Moltke's Death.

By Cable and Associated Press.]
BERLIN, April 25.—Von Moltke died in the study of his official residence on Konigsplatz. He appeared in his usual good health early yesterday evening. He suffered as usual and his appetite was good. He arose from his seat with the intention of retiring. Suddenly he staggered and would have fallen but for the fact that a servant sprang to his assistance. The Count was then carried to his bedroom and placed upon the bed, upon which he died in a few minutes. The Emperor was at Wartburg and telegraphed expressions of sympathy to the family. All the German princes and noted personages of the empire are sending messages of condolence.

The will of the Count states he desires the burial to take place at Creissau, where his wife and child are buried. The funeral, if the Count's requests are followed, will be strictly private, but it is thought possible the Emperor will override the dead soldier's wishes and that the funeral will be made the occasion for a grand military display. All the officers of the General's staff were informed of his death and they assembled at his house before daylight.

The Count's death was not generally known until the fact was published in special editions of the morning papers. It caused deep and universal sorrow. The Emperor, on account of the death of Count Von Moltke, will return to Berlin this afternoon. The Empress visited the death chamber this morning and laid a magnificent wreath of roses upon the bed upon which the great General rested. The Empress spent a quarter of an hour trying to console the family. Splendid floral offerings are arriving at the residence from all parts of Germany.

A great crowd of people, respectfully sympathetic, surround the court and residence and through the streets. Many stores leading to the thoroughfare are closed and the city throughout is commencing to display emblems of mourning. In the lower House of the Prussian diet to-day, the President of that body in announcing Von Moltke's death to the Representatives, said the high value of the Count's services to the fatherland would cause universal sorrow and mourning to be felt throughout Germany. In the upper House a laurel wreath entwined with black and white satin ribbons was hung over Count Von Moltke's seat. The President read a letter from Major Moltke announcing the Count's death and then he delivered an address extolling the merits and services of the dead soldier as a member of the upper House. Both Houses adjourned until Monday.

Late last night the Emperor telegraphed his sympathetic condolences to the Von Moltke family, saying the field marshal's death is a greater loss to Germany than the loss of an army corps would have been. The Emperor summoned all the princes and crowned heads of the different German States to attend the funeral, which will take place on Thursday next and which will be attended by imposing military ceremonies, the body to be escorted in state from the Von Moltke residence to the railroad station, whence it will be taken to Creissau for interment. The ceremonies at Creissau will be quiet and without display, in accordance with the late count's will. A handsome oak coffin was taken to the official residence of the dead field marshal this afternoon. The remains will lie in state in the apartment in which the count died until Thursday morning. The coffin will be surrounded with battle flags and be in charge of a guard of honor until it is finally placed in the family vault at Creissau.

In the course of the morning, by the Emperor's orders, the imperial standard was conveyed from the palace to the room in which the remains of the great soldier will lie in state. This is done as a special mark of the Emperor's favor and as showing how deeply he feels the loss.

In the Reichstag this afternoon Herr Von Levetzow, President of that body, eulogized the dead soldier. The Reichstag then adjourned. This afternoon Lessing, the sculptor, took a plaster cast of the dead field marshal's face.

Shooting Stopped in Boston.

BOSTON, April 25.—A fight between the Weir and John Griffin for the leather-weight "championship" of America and a purse of $1,000, was stopped in the fourth round by the police early this morning. ##### From the Orient.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The steamship China arrived early this morning from Yokohama and Hongkong. The steamer Nazing from Manila went ashore March 20th on Great Lamma Island. The passengers, including nine Europeans, were landed safely. The steamer at last advice was in danger of becoming a total wreck if the weather changed for the worse. It was believed her cargo of hemp might be saved.

The shipwrecked crew of the steamer Queen Elizabeth, wrecked on March 20th near Nagasaki have been conveyed to Nagasaki.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt at Yokohama March 28th. The Chinese and Japanese papers make reference to a feeling of uneasiness prevailing in Korea and that several Japanese men-of-war have been dispatched to Seoul. The Jiji Shimpō newspaper says if rumor be true that China has demanded the abdication of the King of Korea in favor of his son, such a proceeding cannot be disregarded by Japan, as it would be tantamount to an unequivocal declaration of China's sovereignty over the peninsular kingdom.

In statu Quo.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—No action will be taken by the Treasury Department at present in the case of Phoebe W. Couzens, removed from the position of Secretary of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair, and which was brought to the attention of the department yesterday.

C. H. Jones, Chairman of the Committee on Finance of the Exposition, said when the voucher of the lady who succeeded Miss Couzens as secretary for her salary for the portion of the month of April which she will have served, was presented to the department for approval, the department will then have something as a basis upon which to take action. Meanwhile nothing will be done.

Spanish Finances.

MADRID, April 25.—The Minister of Finances has announced in the Deputies a budget deficit of 18,918,000 pesetas. The Minister introduced a bill authorizing the Bank of Spain to increase the issue of its notes on a basis of three times the amount of gold and silver held in reserve, and the bank to lend the treasury 150,000,000 pesetas. Another bill was also announced authorizing the government to issue internal revenue bonds, redeemable in thirty years, to the nominal amount of 250,000,000 pesetas. The money thus secured is to be devoted to the repayment of the floating debt.

Robbers Arrested.

ATLANTA (Ga.), April 25.—Last night a gang of five robbers broke open several stores. After committing the robbery they fled, pursued by a posse of angry citizens. Half a mile from town they stopped and defied their pursuers, and a pitched battle with shot guns and revolvers followed. J. P. Wilson, Alderman of Atlanta, was fatally shot and, William Bentley, one of the robbers, is dying. All the gang were arrested except two. It is believed they are the persons who caused the railroad wreck near Springfield recently.

Manipurs for Peace.

SELMA, April 25.—Dispatches state that the British forces advancing on Manipur met and engaged a force of about 1,000 Manipurs on the 23rd inst. ##### Sacked Darganella.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25.—The note of the Russian Ambassador, Nelidoff, on the detention by the Ottoman authorities on April 13 in the Dardanelles, of a steamship belonging to the Russian volunteer fleet, which vessel was being used under a mercantile flag as a transport for military workmen, caused great excitement in the Turkish official circles.

The Russian Ambassador declared the Embassy would henceforth be compelled to take independent measures to assure the unimpeded passage of Russian merchant vessels through the Dardanelles. The Porte in replying to Nelidoff said should the Russian Ambassador's remarks be carried out, the matter might lead to serious complications. Diplomatic circles throughout Constantinople are much excited over the event, which it is thought may lead to further and more serious complications.

Hard Conditions.

BOSTON, April 25.—According to an order of the officers of the American Express Company, to go into effect May 1st, every employe will be compelled to file a bond with the company to protect them against any possible dishonesty or carelessness involving loss to the company, the amount of the bond to be regulated according to the salary.

Each employe also will be required to fill out a blank giving a complete personal description of himself and a partial history of his life. This must be accompanied by a photograph of the employe himself. Employes deem these new regulations an outrage to submit to.

Arrested for the Murder.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Two men are under arrest in connection with the murder of Carrie Brown in the hotel Thursday night. A pair of trousers supposed to belong to either "Frenchy" or the other man arrested were brought to the station this morning. Spots on them may be bloodstains. ##### Deep Creek Mines.

The interest continues to increase over these mines and the Salt Lake Tribune says of them: "Men are coming in from there, but you don't find any one that is kicking about the country. That is a phenomenal thing. But Deep Creek is an exception so far, and that certainly speaks well for the country. Some of these days you will see men come in from there who will kick, and they will be the moneyed men who want to own the country and get it kicking about the country and mines. To-day is the best mining country out for people to get in at the bottom and make mines and money."

A Runaway.

A runaway hay team, belonging to an Italian rancher, started from Hymers' corral and in their wild fright jumped into the vacant cellar on the corner of Second and Sierra streets at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon, and escaped all injury, although falling under the overturned wagon and into a pile of twisted gas pipes left by a former fire.

French Spoken Here.

A commercial traveler stopped at a hotel in Missouri and his attention was immediately attracted to a notice over the bar in an elegant glass covered frame, which said "I'll 'on Parle France," and addressing the landlord said "Hello, French spoken here." The landlord looked as if insulted and said "Not much, I'm Missourian. Why do you ask?" "Well," said the drummer, "your sign up there says so." The landlord looked up and said, as he scratched his ear, "Well do not that Yankee peddler; he sold that to me for a Latin motto of 'God Bless Our Home'."

Luke's Stolen Horses.

Referring to the horses stolen from Luke's stable in Virginia the night before, the Chronicle of yesterday says: "About half-past nine last night the buckskin horse that had been stolen walked into the stable saddled and bridled. One of the persons supposed to have been implicated in the robbery also returned last night, and it is supposed the horse was turned loose, knowing the animal would make his way to the stable." The other one is still absent, and Mr. Luke was searching in the vicinity of Franktown for it yesterday.

An Ex-Convict.

The Chronicle of last evening says: Among the papers found in the cabin of Luigi Budaracco, a woodchopper, who was found dead in his cabin at a wood camp in Cory canyon, near Hawthorne last Friday, was a pardon from the State Prison. He was sent from Lander county in 1874 to the State Prison for life for murder in the second degree. In July, 1886, he was pardoned by Governor Adams, Justice Belknap and Attorney General Devoe.

Insane Woman.

The Elko Independent of Thursday says: Constable J. B. Hall and R. P. Hamill came down from Wells to-day having in charge Blanche Kelly, an old resident of the town, who is supposed to be insane. She was wandering the streets, unconcerned and aimlessly, in an entire nude condition.

Oasis Ranch Sold.

The Elko Independent of the 23rd inst. says: The real estate of the Oasis Ranch Company was sold at Sheriff's sale to-day for $1,788 49, the amount of the judgment and costs. The property was bid in by Arnie S. Kingsbury, the plaintiff in the suit.

"SHENANDOAH."

To-night the Great War Drama Will Be Presented.

To-night will be presented for the first time in Reno the great play of "Shenandoah," a military drama that has caused more comment in social circles than any other play of a like nature ever written. All who miss the opportunity of seeing this great war drama will regret it the longest day they live. The Virginia Enterprise says of it:

"Seldom has the seating capacity of Piper's Opera House been more strained than it was last night, upon the presentation of Bronson Howard's great military drama 'Shenandoah.' The cast was a strong one and each character was portrayed with a realism that gave credit to the performers. In the play Mr. Howard has contrived to dramatize a story of the late civil war without introducing any instrument that might justly wound the sensibilities of either Northern or Southern."

"There are climaxes that burst forth in a spirit of patriotism and true devotion, awakening the deepest admiration in the author whose heart responds to the inspiring call to noble sentiments. Pathos and comedy run hand in hand, and one's whole being is wrought up to a high pitch, when like the cooling breeze in the summer sun, comes a share of comedy, that carries the audience away in the most happy and pleasant thoughts, while they laugh with redoubled energy and the tear-stained eyes sparkle anew with merriment."

"It is this wonderful interlacing of the pathetic, the patriotic and the humorous, that makes the production a literary gem, worthy of the highest honor."

"The scenery in the second and third acts is grand, and the stirring war pictures of the Shenandoah valley are realistic to a marked degree."

THE "RANSEST CHEESE."

A Southern Dairy's Stomach Teased With Axle Grease.

Some years ago, when Fraser's axle grease was a new thing in the market, a drummer was showing it to a grocer in one of the Southern States. While lauding the merits of the stuff, a negro entered the store and, after looking over the lot for a while, said to the drummer:

"Boss, am that cheese?" "It is, and finer than silk," was the reply the drummer received.

"What am cheese wuff, boss?" "Ten cents."

After a moment's hesitation the coon turned to the grocer and said: "Massa White, would you fro in a few crackers if I buy that cheese?"

"Certainly, Sam," was the reply of the grocer.

After producing the dime the sable son of Ethiopia took the cheese? and the crackers and sat down outside the store to have a feast. He spread the stuff on good and thick and seemed to relish it very much. After watching him for a time the drummer and the merchant went out and said to him, "How does it go, Sam?"

"Well," was the answer, "them crackers is powerful fine, but 'fo' God, Massa White, dis am de ransest cheese dis nigger ever seed."

For Deep Creek.

The Salt Lake Tribune of Thursday says: The Deep Creek Stage Company will add eighteen more horses to their outfit, also two big Concord coaches. They sent out yesterday to Dugway five loads of hay, two loads of oats and two of groceries. Hay laid down there costs $32 per ton, oats five cents per pound and water five cents per gallon. People are making a business of hauling in water from Deep Creek. There is a waterless stretch of thirty-five miles east of Dugway, and another one west of Dugway.

Deplorable Failure.

The Silver State of yesterday makes record of a deplorable failure in the following account. It says: Sam Davis of the Carson Appeal arrived in Winnemucca yesterday in the interest of the monarch of the dailies. He jumped the Sara Bernhardt special bound west and immediately bounced the supe for an audience with Sara. He sent in his card and the answer was returned: "No Examiner friends need apply." Sam not only failed to receive an invitation to dine with the lovely Sara, but he was also refused an audience.

A Washoe Zephyr.

The Chronicle of last night says as follows of a Washoe zephyr that visited Virginia on Thursday: "Yesterday and last night the wind howled unceasingly with a vengeance. Such a wild night has not been experienced since the days of Treasure Hill when McCarthy was busted."

But our neighbor has quoted that historic event in the wrong language. It was originally given thus: "It's a wild night on Treasure Hill and Mulligan's busted."

Cattle Whiplaments.

Eleven cars of beef cattle came in on a special from Carson this morning and were shipped by Moffit to San Francisco.

L. Brooks also shipped to San Francisco seven cars of beef cattle.

Eighteen cars of beef cattle will be shipped to-morrow morning to L. May at Portland, Oregon.

Seventeen cars of beef cattle will arrive from Carson on Tuesday morning for San Francisco.

Poisoned Cattle.

The Genoa Courier says: This week twelve head of John Baldwin's cattle died from eating wild larkspur, while grazing along the road near Frederickburg. More of the cattle would probably have died had not Mr. Baldwin arrived and bled them freely. He took his stock back to the meadows.

Its Excellent Qualities.

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste, and by gentle action on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, therefore promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Local and General Intelligence.

Early sown grain is doing splendidly in Honey Lake Valley.

Stages will be making regular trips from Carson to Lake Tahoe the latter part of next week.

Call at Petersen's Palace Bakery for ice cream and milk shakes. Pleasant parlors for ladies and theater parties.

Go to Coleman's for a bath, pompadour hair cut or shave, on Virginia street at the old stand, next to Fredrick's.

The farmers of Jacks Valley, Douglas county, are putting in their crops. The valley looks like a section of the Emerald Isle.

One hundred thousand pounds of grain was purchased in Honey Lake Valley this week for shipment over the narrow gauge to Reno.

Many of the peach, cherry and apricot trees around Susanville are in full bloom, and, barring frost, the outlook for a bounteous crop is good.

D. A. Bender, who witnessed "Shenandoah" last evening in Carson, says it is the finest production ever put upon a stage in this State.

Major George W. Barton, a newspaper man, died at the Steilacoom Insane Asylum, Wash., Thursday. He was well known in Nevada and in Los Angeles.

Strawberry plants in the town and throughout the valley are putting forth their fragrant blossoms, and promise a big yield if not caught by frost later in the season.

No matter how dreary the sermon. The people will not go to sleep, if a bee by chance gets into the church, and buzzes loud and deep. Marcus Fredrick sells the best of cigars and tobacco.

There was a little king, a fiery little thing, and he put a little chip on his shoulder, and counted up his men, and took it off again, and said if he'd been bigger he'd been bolder. La Marsella cigars at A. Nelsons.

Last year there was an abundant crop of fruit in Jacks Valley, Douglas county, and there are prospects of a heavy yield the coming season. A noticeable feature about the fruit of that section is that it is hard, solid and free from worms or other fruit pests.

Another Creamery.

The farmers around Gardnerville, Douglas county, are determined to start a creamery in that favored locality. The Gazette feels that it has done good work in that direction during the past two years, for it has never missed an opportunity of enlightening its readers on the advantage of such enterprises, and already it can see the effects of the agitation. Let the good work go on for one industry begets another.

Being Tried for Horse Stealing.

The trial of E. E. Dixon, formerly one of the proprietors of the Lassen Advocate, for horse stealing is attracting widespread attention in and around Susanville. If Dixon is guilty the GAZETTE hopes that it will be proven and he will get the benefit of the full extent of the law in San Quentin. There has been too much "monkeying" with other peoples horses and cattle in Lassen for a number of years.

Struggling up Life's Ragged Hill.

With youth, vigor, ambition and an indomitable will to keep us, is so much grime, but withering down again, afflicted by the ailments which beset old age, backs bent, with lumbago, our elastic muscles and joints stiff and painful, is a woe of life. For the infirmities which the decline of life too often brings, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a beneficial source of relief, a mitigating agent always to be depended upon. No regulating tonic evolved by the science of discovery is so well calculated, so thoroughly able, but without undue stimulative effect, to help the aged, the delicate and the convalescent—to reinvigorate the vitality of a frame which time and physical decline have impaired as this. Kidney and bladder weakness and disorder, constiveness, neuralgic complaints and rheumatism are among the bodily afflictions which this sterling reconstituent and regulator overcomes.

No Diphtheria.

The Carson Tribune of last evening says there is no diphtheria in Carson at this time, and the Virginia and Reno papers should do the correct thing and so report. Which the GAZETTE does with the greatest pleasure. But why did you report it in the first place.

A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN.

He Tests a California Production.—His Report.

A St. Louis gentleman whose affliction was sick headaches was so surprised at their cure by Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, that he called to the attention of a relative, who happened to be Dr. F. A. Barrett, the well-known St. Louis physician of 2529 Shenandoah Street. The doctor saw at once that it differed from the potato preparations in that it was purely vegetable, and becoming interested, began a series of investigations, and in a subsequent letter candidly admitted its curative properties, and says:— "Wishing to test its virtues further, I used it in my own family, and prescribed it for patients who required a general system regulator. As a result, I can say it is an almost absolute cure for constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, and sick headaches. These troubles usually come from a disturbed condition of the stomach and bowels, and Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla is the best laxative and stomach regulator I have ever seen, and as a general system corrector is almost perfection." (Signed) F. A. BARRETT, M. D., 2529 Shenandoah St., St. Louis.

The Great Spring Medicine.

It will be gratifying to all who realize the vital necessity of purifying the blood, to know that Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup can be relied upon as a blood medicine. Mr. B. C. Robinson, of Marshall, Mich., says: "Gentlemen—I have suffered intensely from biliousness and rheumatism for over three years and had tried so many remedies that I had lost all faith. Hearing of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup I bought a bottle and found it helped me. I have now used four bottles, and it has cured my liver and kidneys to healthy action, and done more to purify my blood than anything I have ever taken. I am pleased to recommend it as a wonderful blood medicine." Yours very truly, B. C. Robinson, Marshall, Mich. Sold by all druggists. # MODERN WITCHCRAFT.

Pennsylvania People Who Still Cling to Old Rites.

The Headquarters of a Superstitious Sect Who Believe in Witch Doctors and Have Some Very Peculiar Practices.

A Logan (Pa.) correspondent of a Philadelphia paper says that a belief in witchcraft has developed in that city and township to an alarming extent. He continues: The village of Bobtown is the headquarters of this superstitious sect, but prominent disciples are found scattered about the district in confusion. They seemingly live in a world of thought peculiarly their own and frequently congregate at the house of some congenial spirit proven in the faith and talk over matters pertaining to their strange belief. They are extremely chary of admitting strangers into their household and under no circumstances will they divulge aught of their peculiar belief and practices.

From what can be gleaned about them it seems that there are two witches in this part of the globe, one a resident of Milroy and the other of this village. Logan is also favored in the possession of a "doctor," or one who is invested with the secret power to remove the "spell" from the victim after the unholy eye of the witch has "looked upon" a subject.

Many are the weird stories related of the machinations of the witches and the relieving power of the "doctor" to cure the magic spell. About three months ago a little child lay sick for several weeks and the child's parents solemnly believed that it was a victim of a witch's ban.

The suspected witch was believed to be a resident of Logan. One dreary night in November a witch doctor of this place was sent for and after a lengthy pow-wow the spell which the witch had wrought yielded to the secret power of the healer. This particular case was heralded broadcast and at once developed a veritable host of believers, and their number has increased many fold since.

Another similar case of recent occurrence has created no end of comment among the neighborhood gossips. In this instance the enchanted one was a young married woman, whose case baffled the cunning of the witch doctor.

His saving power failed to remove the spell of the sorceress, but he advised the husband to send his wife away, which he did, and to wear certain beads around his neck for the express purpose of guarding against becoming bewitched himself. These beads were furnished by the "doctor" and are supposed to possess virtues potent in resisting the powers of sorcery. Since the foregoing incidents transpired the woman has returned to her home fully restored and the husband has laid away his beads.

Perhaps the most serious case resulting from this strange hallucination pertaining to witchcraft in this neighborhood is that of a young married woman whose reason has been dethroned. In consequence of her adherence to the belief and the silly practices that were performed in her presence she has become hopelessly insane.

The time-worn silver bullet story still holds mastery over the minds of these deluded creatures. A certain man's maiden aunt, who was a member of the household, was suspected of being a bad witch, possessing the occult power of transforming herself into any animal that her capricious fancy might suggest. It is the firm belief among the deluded associates that she enchanted scores of persons and wrought much mischief. During these supposed periodical transformations she was frequently absent for days at a time, when she was believed to exist in animal form.

The nephew had devised many ways of ridding himself of his witch aunt, but she was sufficiently cunning to frustrate all his plans. Finally, it is said, he consulted a witch doctor, who advised him to shoot her with a silver bullet while she was detected in the form of an animal. He had not long to wait for an opportunity, as the troublesome aunt transformed herself into a deer soon after dark. The deer, or his aunt, as the case may be, was shot with the silver bullet and eaten, thus terminating the career of one bad witch. At any rate, the suspected aunt has not since returned in the human form, and the consequence of the distressing case is that the nephew's wife has become hopelessly insane.

Flowers at Funerals.

Societies for the abolition of flowers at funerals are being organized in Baden, Germany. The parent society in Wiesbaden was founded by clergyman against the bitter opposition of all gardeners in the neighborhood, who denounced their action in public meetings and in the newspapers. The direct impulse to the movement was given by the repeated experience that at house funerals the flowers occupied so much space that inadequate room was left for the mourners. At the funeral of a high official named Von Wurmb, recently, fifteen hundred dollars' worth of flowers so blocked the halls and filled the space around the coffin that half of the persons who wished to attend the services were compelled to wait in the rain outside. The new society proposes to allow only relatives to send flowers hereafter.

To Hear a Fly Walk.

If you wish to hear a fly walk, you can do it without the aid of a telephone, provided you can find the fly at this season of the year, says the New York Sun. Having made friends with the fly, spread a silk handkerchief over your ear and induce the insect to crawl across the handkerchief. As he approaches your ear you will distinctly hear a harsh, rasping sound, made by the contact of the insect's feet with the filaments of silk.

The Term "Bank."

The term "bank" is derived from the Italian "banco," a seat or bench, because the early dealers in money were accustomed to sit on benches in the market places of the principal towns. The earliest public bank established in modern Europe was that of Venice, which was founded in 1157.

A COW'S TAIL SNAKE.

The Remarkable Reptile Seen by a Sober Wisconsin Man.

Snake stories grow alarmingly scarce of late years, but a correspondent of Nature's Realm relieves the dearth somewhat by telling one which has never been printed before but which ought to have been told just after the war. The correspondent says: "In the fall of 1869 I was in La Crosse, Wis., and having some business in La Crescent, on the Minnesota side of the Mississippi, I crossed the river in a ferry boat. There is, or was, an arm of the river on the Minnesota side called, in western parlance, a 'slaw.' Over this there is a bridge, on going over I saw a snake coiled on a 'butt' that had been saved off a tree of about two feet in diameter, and it was floating in the water. The snake was so different from any animal of the kind I had ever before seen that I gazed at it for fully five minutes. It was evidently asleep and within ten feet of me—was, in fact, directly under me as I leaned over the side of the bridge. The 'slaw' had no current in it, for the water was very low; I had, therefore, ample opportunity to observe the snake. It was red, and more extraordinary still, it was thickly covered with hair. It resembled no snake I had ever seen before. It was exactly like a red cow's tail. The hair on it was fully an inch long and as thick as that growing on a cow's tail. Having no means of capturing the snake, I determined to make it show itself, and flung a piece of stick at it. It awoke at the splash in the water, uncoiled itself and dived into the slough. It was certainly six feet long or more. I have told some dozens of people in La Crosse about it, among them Mr. Davidson, of the Clyde house, but none of them remember to have ever seen such a snake. Mr. Davidson is the best known sportsman in La Crosse, and it is strange that he never should have seen any snake like it."

EXPENSE TAPPING IN SAXONY.

Keen tapping in Saxony.

Expense tapping in Saxony is illustrated in the case of the Saxony commission for estimating the damages to crops during the maneuvers of Saxony troops. The commission, says the New York Sun, traveled twenty miles, at an expense of $50, to assess damages estimated at $3, but finally scaled down to 85 cents. A report that this sort of bureaucratic extravagance was frequent has led Chancellor von Caprivi to order that "such trips shall be undertaken in the future only when large sums of money are at stake."

German Syrup.

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Euflava, Ala., writes: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Bozerey's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Bozerey's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted with this bad will do well to make a note of this.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: "I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior."
